President’s Message

Dear Friends,

The month of March is going to be a pivotal time for Saint Ignatius, and this is not just related to celebrating the feasts of St. Patrick and St. Joseph! I am thinking of this school year as our thorough checkup at the Mayo Clinic for schools. We are taking a deep and broad look at our strengths and where we want to improve.

The school will be developing a Strategic Plan that will serve as our blueprint for the next several years. We have a project coming on line in The Father Donald F. Rowe, S.J. Architectural Gallery (“The Gallery”), which will be in the McLaughlin Building on floors 3 & 4. We also have some strategic projects identified such as expanding the backstage area and building a stadium on Roosevelt Road. More importantly, it is critical to have an overarching vision of the kind of school we want to be and then tailoring the capital improvements to the bigger vision of who we want to be. Designing a strategic plan takes a great deal of work and the involvement of many people.

We are using the services of John Littleford and Associates who conduct such consultations for private schools around the world. Mr. Littleford comes to us with excellent commendations. I am confident that his work with us will yield many benefits for an exciting and stable future. Many Focus Groups comprised of our faculty, staff, students, parents, administration, board, donors, community partners, and alumni will help us shape the vision. We will be keeping you apprised of this important work.

The Strategic Plan is an excellent complement to the AdvancEd accreditation which is being led by Erin Luby, our Dean. No doubt this initiative will be a major contributor to our future. Please keep this critical initiative in your prayers. I will keep you posted as we move along.

Sincerely,
Rev. Michael P. Caruso, S.J.

BOB NEWHART ’47
Returns to Saint Ignatius

Fr. Caruso, Ginnie and Bob Newhart with the dedication plaque.
Back on October 21, Bob Newhart paid a visit to his alma mater on the invitation from Fr. Caruso. Mr. Newhart marveled at the changes that have taken place on campus since he graduated but commented that the outstanding Catholic Jesuit education he received was still readily apparent amongst the current students, faculty and administration.

During his visit, Mr. Newhart also took part in the homecoming pep rally and addressed the entire student body during the assembly. Be sure to visit the school’s YouTube channel at www.youtube.com/user/SICPChicago to watch videos of his talks. Fr. Caruso took the opportunity to also dedicate the stage in the McLaughlin Theater in honor of Mr. Newhart. A photo of the bronze plaque, that was unveiled to dedicate the occasion, can be seen here.

Bob Newhart’s comedic delivery may be deadpan, but for five decades the Chicago-area native has made it tough for audiences to match his straight face.

The Illinois Broadcasters Association also honored Mr. Newhart when the group inducted the comedian into its Hall of Fame during his visit at an event at the Chicago Theatre. “He’s such a versatile actor and performer and really an American icon,” said Dennis Lyle, the group’s president and CEO. Hall of Fame nominees must either have been born in Illinois or honed their skills here, and Mr. Newhart certainly qualifies on both counts.

The 82-year-old was born in Oak Park, was raised in Chicago’s Austin neighborhood and received a degree in business management from Loyola University. After working as an advertising copywriter in Chicago, he turned his focus to comedy, and his career began to take off with several albums and TV appearances.

Mr. Newhart won over TV audiences in the 1970s with “The Bob Newhart Show,” which spanned six seasons, followed by “Newhart,” which ran for eight seasons in the 1980s. It’s one thing to have one successful sitcom in a career, but to have two is quite the accomplishment.

Newhart also has taken his skills to the big screen with roles in movies like 2003’s “Elf” and last year’s “Horrible Bosses” and has been inducted into the halls of fame of the Academy of Television Arts & Sciences and the National Association of Broadcasters.

As an inductee into the Illinois hall, he joins the likes of Jack Benny, Bill Kurtis, Jack Brickhouse, Orson Welles, Dick Biondi and Oprah Winfrey. During his visit, the Chicago City Council also honored Newhart with a resolution calling him a “favorite son” with a “unique style of comedy.”

On October 22 Mr. Newhart took the stage at the Chicago Theatre to celebrate his 50th anniversary in show business. The theater is celebrating its 90th year. 200 Saint Ignatius alums and friends of the school were on hand to watch the performance and Mr. Newhart made many comments to the crowd about his visit to Saint Ignatius a day earlier. Mr. Newhart told the local media that, “I’ve never played there before so for me, to walk out on those boards is like something I never thought would happen.”
Saint Ignatius College Prep is proud to announce its five semifinalists in the 2012 National Merit Scholarship Program. The students, seen above, are: Mary Barth, Alexander Solis, Clifford Vickrey, Derek Vidovic, and Elizabeth Zelko. The semifinalists can be seen here with Fr. Caruso and Dr. Karl. Of the over 1 million students who took the PSAT, approximately 16,000 scored high enough to become semifinalists. These academically talented high school seniors now have the opportunity to continue in the competition for some 8,300 National Merit Scholarships worth more than $34 million. Congratulations to the students, their teachers and their families on this incredible accomplishment.

Fernanda Arreola ’12, Sophia Romero ’12, Marissa Ruiz ’12, Alexander Solis ’12 and Elizabeth Zelko ’12, seen above, were named as National Hispanic Recognition Program Scholars. This year, the program is recognizing nearly 5,000 students selected from a pool of over 235,000. These students have achieved a high score on the PSAT exam and have a GPA of 3.5 or higher. The award winners can be seen here with Fr. Caruso and Dr. Karl.

Mariah Harris ’12, seen above, was named a Semifinalist in the 2012 National Achievement Scholarship Competition. More than 1,600 African American high school seniors were announced as semifinalists out of over 160,000 that requested consideration for the award.

Outstanding Participants in the 2012 National Achievement Program scored in the top 3% of all students nationally who took the PSAT last year. This year’s Outstanding Participants, shown here with Dr. Karl, are: Ariel Hampton, Olatunbosun Osinaike, Jay Robinson, Ariana Valderrama and Layla West.
Bill ’68 and Joan Kistner
Receive Founders’ Award

This year’s President’s Dinner took place at school on October 1, 2011. This event was one of the school’s ways to say thank you to our generous benefactors who have supported the school in the previous fiscal year at the $2,500 or higher giving level. During the event, Fr. Caruso, S.J. presented the 2011 Founders’ Award to Bill ’68 and Joan Kistner. The Founders’ Award is given in honor of Saint Ignatius College Prep’s first founder, Fr. Arnold Damen S.J., and second founder, Fr. Donald F. Rowe, S.J. This award is presented to men and women who, through their loyalty and generosity, continue the good works of both Fr. Damen and Fr. Rowe.

Bill Kistner is a former trustee of Saint Ignatius and served as a long time member of the Finance Committee. Bill is a retired partner from Ernst & Young and currently holds the position of Vice President, Internal Audit, for Northwestern Memorial Hospital. Throughout his career Bill has been active in various civic and professional organizations. He is a member of Loyola University Chicago School of Business Administration Dean’s Advisory Board, served as Board Chairman for Erie Family Health and continues to serve as a board member. Most recently, Bill joined the Chicago Jesuit Academy board. He received all three of the Founders Merit Awards conferred by Healthcare Financial Management Association along with the Loyola University Chicago School of Business Administration Founder’s Award.

Joan currently works in public relations and previously worked for the Saint Ignatius Development Office. For many years Joan chaired the Gala for Children’s Home & Aid Society - Northwest Auxiliary. Joan’s father, Jack Angileri, is a member of the class of 1942 and her brother, Anthony, was in the class of 1966. Bill and Joan’s son, James Kistner, was also on hand for the evening’s festivities. Joan and Bill continue to be involved in numerous charitable outreaches throughout Chicago and are very involved within their community. A tribute video to the Kistners can be seen at www.youtube.com/user/SICPChicago.

Jim Spalding Celebrates 50 Years of Service to Saint Ignatius

Jim Spalding is an iconic name in the Ignatius community. His career at Ignatius as a teacher, mentor, and coach spans five decades. He has influenced the lives of thousands of students. Despite his retirement from teaching in 2004, Jim continues to give of his time and genuine love for the school and its community by teaching summer school and substitute teaching, appearing at reunions, spending time with alumni and, for the past year, sharing memories of his Ignatian experiences in his blog entitled “1076 Reflections”. You can find the blog at www.1076reflections.blogspot.com.

On September 5, 2011, Jim celebrated the 50th anniversary of his first year at Ignatius and generously shared his reflection on the past half-century in a blog entry entitled “My Life is Golden”. On behalf of the entire Saint Ignatius College Prep Community, the Alumni Office would like to thank Jim for his many years of service to the school. We have been blessed for 50 years to have Jim as a member of our family.
Marty Burns '12 developed an interest in the fine arts at a young age. “When I was little, I loved baseball, so I would draw the old Comiskey Park. I also had this fascination with the Titanic when I was young. The movie came out at that time and, even though I never saw it, I was really interested in its structure. I would sketch it a lot.”

Art has played a major role in Burns’s life since his days of drawing ships and baseball parks. As a Saint Ignatius senior, Marty has taken multiple fine arts classes, including Intro to Art, Studio Art, and two full years of Advanced Honors Art. Aside from sketching, Burns has worked with gesso paint, oil paint, and dry point. One of his latest pieces seen here is called an “exquisite corpse”, a collaborative art piece that he worked on with Dr. Bill Carroll and fellow senior Clifford Vickrey.

When asked about his artistic influences, Marty spoke fondly of some of the former and current members of the Saint Ignatius staff. “Dr. Carroll is a great role model for me. His ability to be so well-rounded is really impressive. He studies art, math, astronomy, and music and is also a great teacher.”

Burns’s aspirations beyond high school build on his childhood interest in the structure and lines of baseball parks and ships, as he hopes to pursue architecture as a future career. “I’m really into architecture, and that came from my dad, who wanted to be an architect for a time in his life.” Beyond that though, Burns expressed that he thinks art will be easily integrated into all of his future pursuits. “Art can be integrated into any subject like music. Even though it won’t be the exact focus of my career, it’s an important expression of the self. It’s a great outlet and will definitely be a part of my life.”
Students Are Men and Women for Others at Christopher Christmas

This past December, the Saint Ignatius school community celebrated the eleventh year of Christopher Christmas as our student volunteers spread holiday cheer at the Christopher School in Chicago. This annual service project took place on December 5 and the generosity of our students came out on this amazing day as they became true men and women for others. We had our largest group ever, 196 students, giving up their day off from school to sing songs, play games and make crafts with the students of the Christopher School. All of this was coordinated by Gillian Craig ’12, Sara Winfrey ’13, and the other members of the SICP Student Council.

In addition, all participants helped fulfill the wishes of the students at the Christopher school by donating $3,000 worth of gifts. A special thanks to faculty and staff members Peter Corrigan, Bob Zigmond, Maureen Lonergan, Kate Trinley, Jason Steffen, Matt O’Keefe, Susan Weiss, and Dr. Karl for their help in chaperoning the event and thanks to generous donations from our faculty and students.

It was amazing to see our students spend their day off with this special group of kids and we want to thank everyone involved for their generosity.

Welcome Yule Madrigal Dinner & Concert

With costumes, fanfare, and music, the spirit and splendor of the Renaissance came alive when the Saint Ignatius Chamber Ensembles presented Welcome Yule: A Madrigal Dinner on December 6, 2011. The event sent audience members into the past to the medieval world of court jesters and traditional music from the Renaissance era for a night filled with regal pageantry, entertainment, and traditional Christmas songs of the period—all performed by Saint Ignatius musicians. The concert helped usher in the Christmas season with strolling musicians, song, dance, a delicious dinner and a Medieval Nativity Play. Special thanks to Music instructor Mary Ellen Schneider and Nathan Bradley Doig. Nathan was born back in August to Lauren (Luzzi ’99) and Patrick Doig and he played the part of the Baby Jesus in this year’s Madrigal Dinner.
Each year, Saint Ignatius College Prep opens its doors and invites the public to participate in Open House. On December 4, 2011, the school welcomed over 3,000 people to come and see what Saint Ignatius has to offer. The Open House experience gives families the opportunity to see all aspects of the school life in a forty-five-minute tour. Guests begin their visit with a presentation from President, Rev. Michael P. Caruso, S.J. and Principal, Dr. Cathy Karl, before departing on their tour. Elizabeth Cummings, the Director of Admissions at Saint Ignatius and the coordinator of Open House, explained the importance of framing the Open House visit like this, “It’s a great way to begin the visit, being welcomed by the leaders of the school. I think it sets a very warm and welcoming tone that hopefully stays with them throughout their visit.”

Guests then travel with a student or faculty tour guide through the school and are able to get exposure to the different academic departments, clubs, sport teams and student organizations, getting a general feel for what life is like as a student at SICP. “Given the volume of guests that come through our doors, we are proud of the very personal attention we are able to give each attendant of Open House,” Cummings responded when asked what is unique to the Ignatius Open House experience. “The welcoming nature and intention that goes into the arrangement of the event is something we are truly proud to offer.” Cummings also praised the faculty, staff and students that volunteered at Open House for their ability to showcase the incredible Ignatius community. “Open House is really a community celebration.”

Through Open House, the talented students and staff of Saint Ignatius are able to share their gifts with the public. From the Harlequins showing of their fall musical “Camelot” on video, to the sailing team’s display of a sailboat in the Gentile Gym, to our very own Wolf mascot circulating in Tully Hall, the Ignatius community truly shines during this special event.

Congratulations to Ms. Cummings and the Admissions department for another successful Open House.

Saint Ignatius Leads High Schools into Mobile App Age

Smart phones and tablets have quickly become the top media consuming tools for most Americans. Colleges and universities have quickly integrated the new technology and now forward thinking high schools are starting to develop apps for their student, alumni, parents and faculty. Saint Ignatius is excited to announce that the school’s app is now available. “This opportunity has created a lot of excitement for our entire community,” said Fr. Michael Caruso, SJ. The mobile app features over 300 categories and individual screens that encompass many aspects of communication between the school and our constituencies.

Many new advancements have also been made to the school’s app since its launch last year. One new feature that has been enabled is push notifications. This is where your phone receives a message from the app. Look for notices about end of year giving, school closings, event notifications, etc. A few new article sections have been added as well and the Quest dining hall menu is also now displayed.

We’ve also included a section on student activities, a link to Edline for parents and students, and a link to a guide for the Ignatian Examen under Pray with Ignatius. Visit www.apps4meetings.com/sicp today to download the app for free.
Brinkman ’51 - A Lifetime of Scholarship

By Dr. Raymond Heisler ’78

Professor John Brinkman ’51 recently returned to his alma mater on the occasion of his 60th reunion. Faculty member, Matt Sparapani, also recently took his Ancient History class to the Oriental Institute Museum where they met Prof. Brinkman.

As long as there have been Jesuit schools, the study of Latin and Greek has had a prominent place in the curriculum and has been one of the distinctive qualities of a Jesuit education. These studies have even inspired some Jesuit alumni to pursue the study of the Classics in college and graduate school. In the case of Dr. John A. Brinkman, ’51, the introduction to Latin and Greek he received at Saint Ignatius College Prep led him to move further back beyond the origins of Western Civilization to the beginning of civilization itself. Brinkman is the Charles H. Swift Distinguished Service Professor Emeritus of Mesopotamian History in the Department of Near Eastern Studies at the University of Chicago and former director of its Oriental Institute.

Brinkman pursued the Classical Honors curriculum at Ignatius, which required four years of Latin and two years of Greek to receive the Classical Honors Diploma. “We used Schoder-Horrigan’s Homeric Greek. What an inspiring book that was,” says Brinkman. He went on to study Classics as an undergraduate, and while pursuing his Master’s Degree, he took a course on the classical archeology of Greece. “I was struck by how much the culture of early Greece was influenced by the civilizations of the Near East, particularly ancient Turkey,” said Brinkman.

The mid-1950s also marked a watershed event in the history of classical scholarship with the decipherment of the writing found on hundreds of clay tablets from Greece dating from the Bronze Age (1600-1100 B.C.). The writing system used on these tablets is known as Linear B, and contains the oldest written form of ancient Greek. The Greek is not written in the Greek alphabet familiar to those who have studied Greek. Rather, the Linear B writing is a syllabary system, where the written characters represent entire syllables, rather than letters. “I started studying the Linear B tablets, and noticed the similarities between it and other syllabic scripts,” said Brinkman. His curiosity eventually led him to the study of cuneiform, the writing system used for the Sumerian and Babylonian languages in ancient Mesopotamia (Iraq).

After he had completed his Ph.D. in Near Eastern Studies at the University of Chicago, Brinkman joined the faculty and has spent his entire career there. He is an authority on Babylonian history from 1600-600 B.C. He has written three books and published over 350 articles on the subject. His study on the chronology of Babylonian royalty has been the standard work on the subject for over 30 years. “I try to take an even-handed approach in my work, searching for all relevant sources and attempting to place them in a broad historical context,” said Brinkman. Brinkman has also helped numerous other scholars, who acknowledge his gracious assistance in their own scholarly publications.

Brinkman is still an active scholar, who has several articles due to be published soon. “This past summer I delivered the keynote paper at a conference at the University of Munich, in which I summarized the last 35 years of discoveries in Kassite history (1600-1150 B.C.). I am now preparing that talk for publication,” explains Brinkman.

Much is made today in educational circles about “life-long learning” and the importance of critical thinking, as though students can inculcate these habits given the right instructional method. Dr. Brinkman has shown us that the task of learning calls for the careful, painstaking work of scholarship pursued over a lifetime.
Hall of Fame Induction

The Saint Ignatius Athletics Hall of Fame recognizes individual athletes, coaches or teams who have had extraordinary athletic achievements during their time at Saint Ignatius College Prep. The award was first given in 1995 and is now presented during the Athletics Hall of Fame Induction Ceremony. This year, the ceremony took place on February 3 before the varsity basketball game versus Fenwick.

This year’s induction class included John Supplitt ’75, Ed Hogan ’66, Gerry Brockhouse and Mark Kosiek ’73.

Edward Hogan ’66 believes that he was one lucky guy to play with the 1965 SICP City Championship baseball team. With pitchers like Al Zapala and John Dillenberg, players like Bob Eifel, Joe Coglianese, and Don Strenk and a cast of truly team players, SICP won the City Championship under the leadership of Coaches Don Lucas, Bob Gabrick, Jim Luzzi and Jim Spalding.

Mark Kosiek ’73 was a two-sport (basketball/baseball), five major letter student athlete. While competing in basketball, Mark helped his teams win three conference championships, a regional championship and was an All-Conference choice and co-captain. On the baseball diamond, he was a three-year starter (shortstop/pitcher). He contributed to winning a conference championship and was an All-Conference and co-captain selection.

John Supplitt ’75 and his brothers Bill and Peter were among the pioneers of soccer at Saint Ignatius where they were trained by IHSA hall of fame coach Jim Luzzi. John was a two-year varsity starter on defense, team co-captain, the team’s most valuable defender, all-conference Chicago Metro Soccer Conference, and a member of the Illinois High School Association all-state soccer team in 1974. John also was president of the 1974-75 SI monogram club and the 1974-75 SI athlete of the year.

National Recognition for Cashman

In late October, Mike Cashman received the National Federation of State High Schools (NFHS) Coach of the Year award for the 2011 high school season in girls’ waterpolo. Coach Cashman was nominated for the prestigious honor by the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) for the positive work he has done with the student-athletes of his program. The 2011 team led by the state’s most valuable player Kate Stelnicki ’11 went undefeated in conference play to capture the wolfpacks first Metro Catholic Aquatic Conference (MCAC) Championship, and finished in the top 3 at the state tournament for the fourth time in the past six years. Cashman also received the MCAC coach of the year award for the second consecutive year.

Joseph Gentile ’42 Gymnasium Renovations & Kehoe-McKenna Court Dedication

On December 10, 2011 the Saint Ignatius College Prep school community, including many former basketball players, gathered to celebrate the renovations that have been made over the past several years to the Joseph Gentile ’42 Gymnasium. The evening began with a reception in the Walsh Activity Center that was attended by more than 200 guests. Those in attendance then moved to the Joseph Gentile ’42 Gymnasium for an unveiling of a new plaque that commemorates the many individuals who contributed to the gym renovation project. Before the boys’ varsity team took on St. Patrick’s, the evening culminated in a dedication ceremony for the recently named Kehoe-McKenna Basketball Court. Former Board Chairman, Peter Q. Thompson ’86, who played basketball at Saint Ignatius, was instrumental in helping lead the renovation project and he was also on hand to help lead the dedication ceremonies.
Kurek ’12 Wraps Up Unlikely Football Career

When senior Julie Kurek kicked a few field goals during a gym class a few years ago, she never thought she might one day become the kicker on the boys’ football team. Football coach Pat Jennings saw the kicks and asked Julie to try out for the team. The tryout was successful, and Julie has now been kicking for the Wolfpack the past three seasons. Julie’s twin sister Laura plays soccer and runs cross country for Saint Ignatius.

Julie grew up playing soccer and was able to translate those kicks into new ones on the football field. “I kind of thought it was a great opportunity, and I knew I could do it,” Kurek said. “I was a little nervous about how the guys on the team would react and how my friends would react. I didn’t know if they would like me being on the team or not. My friends thought it was awesome, and the guys on the team loved it and welcomed me right away, which caught me off guard. I was not expecting that at all. It was great.”

Julie said she’ll never forget her first field goal for the Wolfpack. “The first one I ever made was against De La Salle. I had never made a field goal before and we were losing 7-6 because I shanked an extra point. I went off to the sideline and was down and couldn’t believe I missed that one. Then, I hear ‘Coach’ yelling, ‘Field goal! Field goal!’ I got another chance and made my first one ever to put us ahead — and we ended up winning the game.”

Julie is the first female to ever kick a field goal in a Chicago Catholic League game and she might also be the first female to score a point at Soldier Field. Julie made three point-after kicks during the Wolfpack’s win against Whitney Young back in August at Soldier Field. Another memorable game came last season when she was 8-for-9 on point-after attempts in a 62-30 win over St. Joseph.

Julie has been able to avoid any big tackles but has seen many surprised looks on opposing player’s faces. “At the end of games, when we’re doing the high-fives, some players have made comments like ‘Oh, that’s a girl,’ ” said Kurek. “They didn’t know it during the game. It’s fun.”

Formation and Ministry at Saint Ignatius

On November 1, 2011 the Saint Ignatius community celebrated its second Ignatian Values Day of the school year focusing on the ‘Grad at Grad’ value of Religious. We celebrated two All Saints Teaching Masses in which Fr. Patrick Fairbanks, S.J. introduced the new language of the Revised Roman Missal in preparation for its implementation in U.S. English-speaking liturgies on November 27. Fr. Fairbanks also provided background on some of the theological and historical foundations of the Eucharist. Students, faculty and staff also engaged in small group reflections on the lives of the Saints and our own call to holiness prompted by Fr. James Martin, S.J.’s DVD companion to his bestseller My Life with the Saints. It was a great day of prayer, reflection, and action by our entire community and a true tribute to the Religious character of Saint Ignatius.

The Formation and Ministry and Athletic Departments began a program to provide Ignatian formation for coaches whose primary work is off-campus. On October 26, 2011 a group of eighteen coaches and administrators participated in an evening of small group processing, reflection, and prayer that introduced elements of Ignatian Spirituality and Principles as they relate to the profession of coaching. This is all part of an effort to make all elements of life here at Saint Ignatius mission-centered activities that help form women and men for others. The next Ignatian Formation event for coaches will take place on February 14, 2012.

Your Generosity is Appreciated

The letters on the next pages are from current tuition assistance recipients to their sponsors. Students needing tuition assistance come from all sectors of life, including single-parent families who struggle paycheck-to-paycheck and middle class families with more than one child who are determined to give their children a Catholic education. Giving today will ensure the future of a student tomorrow. Your gift assists us in continuing our tradition of accepting qualified students, regardless of their family’s ability to pay the full cost of tuition. We are proud of our thousands of graduates who benefited from this program and have gone on to live lives of service and witness to their faith. Visit www.ignatius.org/donate.

I want to start off by saying thank you very much for your generosity, I am blessed. I would have never been able to have accomplished the things I have so far in the school year without your loving companionship for me. Your very generous donation has opened new doors in my life that can only guide towards success. Never would I have thought that I could pursue such terrific opportunities. I am having a wonderful time in the classrooms as well. The courses are a whole new experience to me but are very exciting. My favorite course are Religious Studies and English. My English teacher, Dr. Delaney, is very patient and teaches my class to become more independent. Although it brings a challenge, I am totally willing to face it. I know that through those four years I will become the best student I can be but more importantly, prepared for college. On extracurricular, the stats and teams have been challenging freshman football was my very first year of team football. I enjoyed it to the fullest and may many new friends. I will never forget these memories. I am also in Circle of Friends which is a group helping and interacting with disabled teenagers/adults. I learn many life lessons such as being thankful. Most of all being a man and women for Christ. I am looking forward to playing basketball in spring; it is my passion. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for giving me the opportunity to play for such a fine team or St. Ignatius. My family and I are very grateful for your generous contribution to Saint Ignatius College Prep. And my high school experience. Happy Holidays!

Thank you very much...
Thank you for your kind and generous donation. Without your help, I would not be able to attend Saint Ignatius or have the chance to enjoy such a wonderful school year. I love all of my classes at Ignatius, especially Advanced Spanish 2 and American Studies, though I also love geometry, physical education, religious studies, integrated science and I enjoy some free periods with my friends that I wouldn’t have if you hadn’t generously given your donation. Also at Ignatius, I enjoy several clubs such as the Association of Latin American Students (ALAS), the French Honor Society, and Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD).

Outside of Ignatius, I swim sometimes and I play tennis. I have three younger sisters who would love to attend Saint Ignatius because I love being here so much. After I graduate from Saint Ignatius College Prep, I would love to attend Cornell University in New York and become an architect. Thank you again for helping with a great start at Ignatius to achieve my goals in the future. Your generosity is much appreciated.

I am incredibly grateful for all that you have done for me. Your kindness and generosity has made me feel like a part of the Ignatius family. I cannot even begin to put into words the overwhelming emotional impact you have had on my life. I am very happy with where I am today and how much I have achieved since I arrived at Saint Ignatius College Prep. Over the past year, I have made great friends while attending Saint Ignatius. The people I have met are such great people with the best intentions. I am involved in the girls track and field team and I absolutely love it. My favorite class at Saint Ignatius is definitely my senior class because it was a great class and I had the chance to learn about many different things. I am also very proud of my English class where I have had the opportunity to learn so much. Thank you for your help and support. It is greatly appreciated.
One of the most wonderful aspects of our historic school is that our students can learn in an atmosphere filled with inspiring art and architecture, in beautiful buildings filled with a rich history of education, service and reverence for God. However, because our campus spans three centuries, our facilities have required on-going renovation, especially to welcome new technologies that can enhance teaching methods and education.

We’ve come a long way with the new classrooms, but we still desperately need your help! There are four classrooms in our hallowed halls that have long languished as under-equipped for the needs of today’s students. Through the generous support of current parents, the school has transformed these four neediest, most under-equipped classrooms into state-of-the-art facilities. This “worst to first” classroom renewal will also serve as a blueprint for future classroom remodeling that will capitalize on new technologies and teaching tools, like smart boards and auditorium-style projection. This modern equipment is similar to that used at Northwestern and other leading universities.

Located west of the McLaughlin room, the four classrooms have long languished and have been transformed into advanced facilities that enhance the educational process for our current students. Each of these four transformed classrooms will honor one of the current four classes in the school, with a large bronze plaque, placed outside each room, commemorating the donors.

The parents of each of these classes have been asked to generously step forward to fund this important endeavor. The cost to transform these classrooms is $150,000 dollars each, for a total of $600,000. We thank everyone who has donated to this project but we have not yet reached our goal. The classroom chairs are: Class of 2015 – Bob Hutchison, Class of 2014 – Ken Quaas and Craig Milkint, Class of 2013 – Luis Nieto and Class of 2012 – Bruce Mueller.

Please help us complete these much needed renovations. Contact Bob Hutchison at 312-432-8406 or robert.hutchison@ignatius.org today.
Kolpak Family Hosts Final Butterfly Ball Fundraiser

The Paul and Vivian Kolpak Family (Todd Kolpak ‘92, Alexis Kolpak ‘94) celebrated the beautiful life of Vanessa Kolpak ‘97 who was lost at the World Trade Center on 9/11, at their last Butterfly Ball fundraiser on October 1, 2011. This was the sixth and final fundraiser that has raised money in Vanessa’s name for The Suzuki School of Music, Susan G. Koman Breast Cancer Foundation, American Heart Association (in honor of Scott Moore ‘92) and Multiple Sclerosis. The final Butterfly Benefit, with close to 830 friends and family in attendance, also raised money for a scholarship to be started in Vanessa’s name and exceptional spirit at Saint Ignatius, the school she loved so much.

The Kolpak family would like to thank all the Saint Ignatius “kids” who attended and made up for a considerable portion of the attendance of that evening. We are so blessed to have the love, support and friendship of our Saint Ignatius family.

If you are interested in contributing to the Vanessa Kolpak ‘97 scholarship, visit www.ignatiusalumni.org and click on “Donate Now”. Then, select Vanessa Kolpak ‘97 Memorial Endowment from the endowment dropdown menu.

Alum and former teacher, James Serpe, celebrated his 95th birthday last December. James was on the math faculty at Ignatius and later joined the faculty of Loyola Academy in the 60’s. He was a colleague of great teaching talent, good sense and humor and above all, humanity. James continued to bring the delights of mathematics to students until his retirement in his 90’s, and then continued to tutor in math at the Wilmette campus up until a few years ago.

Law Society Gathers for Annual Luncheon

The Saint Ignatius Law Society will gather on March 2 for their annual luncheon. The event will take place at the Union League Club of Chicago with over 400 expected to attend. The Award of Excellence in the Field of Law will be presented to Gerald McCarthy ‘80 and the Honorary Diploma will be given to Joseph Moss.

The goal of the Saint Ignatius Law Society is to foster collegiality within the Saint Ignatius law community. Within 5 years, the Law Society raised over $100,000 for the Michael F. Lefkow Memorial Scholarship. This endowment provides tuition assistance for financially struggling Saint Ignatius students. The society was founded in 2005 by Thomas E. Brabec ’73, John M. Coleman ’67, Kevin J. Conway ’69, Daniel G. Pikarski ’90 and Curtrice White Scott ‘90.

The Law Society is open to any alum, parent, or friend of Saint Ignatius College Prep who is involved in the field of law. The $250 annual cost of membership supports the Law Society Endowment and is entirely tax deductible. As a member, you and your firm will be recognized in the annual Law Luncheon program book and will receive an official Saint Ignatius Law Society lapel pin. The Society also offers a continuing legal education course each year.

Ignatius Business Society Holds Inaugural Luncheon

On November 4, 2011 the Society gathered at the Union League Club for its inaugural Business Society Luncheon. Over 300 were welcomed—alumni, friends, family, and colleagues—to join together for networking over a shared meal. The group recognized Joseph Starshak ‘63, of Starshak Winzenburg Company, with the Award for Excellence in the Field of Business and Robert Peterson, former CEO of Norcross Industries, with an honorary diploma.

The Saint Ignatius Business Society was founded in 2011 to help foster collegiality for members of the school community who work in the fields of business and finance. The Society is open to any alumnus, parent, or friend of Saint Ignatius College Prep who is involved professionally in those fields.

The annual membership fee of $250 is entirely tax deductible and goes toward supporting a scholarship fund recognizing the Society’s efforts. The annual luncheon and other professional development opportunities are also available for members of the Society. We invite you to join today by making a donation and including “Business Society Membership” in your comments. Visit www.ignatiusalumni.org/donate today.
Reminiscences of Saint Ignatius

By Bruno B. “Murph” Wolff ’52

Lab work
For those of you who had the good fortune of taking biology and/or chemistry from Fr. Hagedorn, these two recollections will raise the nostalgia in your psyches. When Father felt a high incidence of acid in the air in his lab, he would announce in that dirge like voice of his, “Ammonia is coming into the room.” Then if you did something untoward like leaving the cap off a vial of acid or making some hazardous move with a Bunsen burner, he would walk up and hold out his hand and say, “Gimme a dime.” When he wasn’t prowling about watching us doing our experiments, he would enconce himself on his stool and hold forth as lord of the realm.

Duel to the Death
Then Mr. Vincent Forde, S. J, whose ordination celebration I attended on Long Island in the mid fifties, was a master at adapting parts of full length plays and turning them into the annual one act play performed by the Harlequins each year. In one of the scenes, we had a fencing match with Falstaff and his pals and each time I banged my right thumb against the hilt of the sword, opening an abrasion on my thumb. One morning just before we were to perform, I woke up with a red line moving up my arm from that sore thumb. My dad took me to the doctor for a shot of penicillin thus saving me from an inglorious and premature death from blood poisoning. I tell my grandchildren that I was nearly killed in a duel.

Return to 1076
A year or so after I graduated, I returned to the campus during a holiday. I happened to come at a time when there was a football practice in the yard behind the school. For those of you who never had this experience, that yard comprised gravel and sand fit for a toreador’s arena. As I stood watching, Dr. Ralph Malliard, the football coach, came over and put his arm around me and treated me as if I were Tony Fornelli or John Gaffney when I was but a second string linebacker/fullback on the freshman squad whose brief career was cut short when my knee was taken out by Harper as I tried to run around left end at the spring practice. But Mal had a way about him to make you feel welcome. I will never forget that afternoon in the October sun.

On another occasion, I happened to meet Fr. Ignatius Whitehead. Father used mnemonics to help us learn Latin. Sixty two years later, the echoes of Father’s refrains still rattle about in my brain. In one we sang third declension endings to the tune of the Volga Boatman. “Is i em e; is i em e; es um ibus es-es ibus; es-es ibus.” Or this little lyric whose tune I cannot name telling the prepositions that used the ablative case. “Put the ablative with de, cum, coram, ab, and e, sine, tine [?], pro, and prae all the day all the day ay ay ay.”
Two Visitors from Rome

In 1966 and again in 1996, Saint Ignatius welcomed the world leaders of the Jesuits from Rome, the Superior Generals of the Society of Jesus. In 1966 it was Fr. Pedro Arrupe, S.J., the 28th successor of St. Ignatius Loyola, who was the first Superior General. In 1996 it was Fr. Peter-Hans Kolvenback, S.J., the 29th Superior General.

The Superior General has been nicknamed in the media as the “Black Pope.” The name comes from the color of the black priest’s cassock that he wears in contrast to the white cassock worn by the Pope.

Fr. Pedro Arrupe, S.J. arrived at Saint Ignatius on Easter Sunday, April 10, 1988, in the afternoon for a reception in the “Submarine Room” where he addressed the Jesuit Family Club. Fr. Arrupe was a Basque from Northern Spain as was St. Ignatius himself and he had a tremendous impact on the direction of Jesuit ministries in the 20th Century. The Historia Domus and Spirit commended on “his great warmth and friendliness” and that his visit “was very enjoyable and thrilling for everyone.” Here at Saint Ignatius there is a very dedicated group of seniors called Arrupe Mentors who shepherd the freshman class through the newness and challenges of their first year.

Fr. Peter-Hans Kolvenback, S.J. arrived at Saint Ignatius on Sunday, May 20, 1996, also in the afternoon. He was accompanied by Fr. Bradley Schaeffer, S.J., Provincial of the Chicago Province and former Principal of Saint Ignatius. Fr. Donald F. Rowe, S.J., President, guided Fr. Kolvenback on a tour of the newly restored 1869 Building, the Driehaus Building and gardens. Fr. Kolvenback addressed the Saint Ignatius community in the McLaughlin Room and then he met with them in a reception in the Brunswick Room.

Fr. Pedro Arrupe, S.J. served as Superior General from 1965 to 1983 and Fr. Peter-Hans Kolvenback, S.J. from 1983 to 2008. On January 19, 2008 Fr. Adolfo Nicolas, S.J. was elected as the 30th Superior General of the Society of Jesus. While he has not yet made a visit to Saint Ignatius, he is most welcome!
A Look Back…

Here’s a recap of some of the events from the first half of the school year. Thank you for coming out to celebrate as a community and for all of your support of Saint Ignatius!

Gentile Golf Classic – June 22, 2011
Hundreds turned out for this year’s outing at Cog Hill Golf and Country Club with proceeds benefitting the Tuition Assistance Program. Thanks to Joe ’42 and Carole Gentile for again sponsoring this event, Dave Kavanaugh ’57 for sponsoring dinner, committee chairs Mike Kirchberg ’78 and Vince Volante ’78, Chairman Emeritus Vince Rangel ’63, and all the committee members. Several months after the Golf Outing, we were saddened to report on the passing of Mr. Gentile, at the age of 87. He died of natural causes on October 10, 2011. Read more in the In Memoriam section of this magazine.

60th Reunion for the Class of 1951 – September 24, 2011
The evening began with mass in the Cuneo Chapel followed by a cocktail hour in the Grand Gallery on the 4th floor. While reminiscing with one another, the attendees enjoyed watching a slideshow compiled of pictures from their class yearbook. Before dinner was served in the Brunswick Room, Nick Gallo and Tony Fornelli gave a wonderful speech commemorating their classmates and honoring the memory of those who are no longer with us.

50th Reunion for the Class of 1961 - September 16-17, 2011
The reunion weekend started with a “Guys Night Out” reception at the University Club of Chicago in the Millennium Room with a beautiful view that overlooked Michigan Avenue. The class then reconvened at school the next night with spouses and guests for mass and dinner. Dr. Frederick E. Wohlberg was presented with the Award of Excellence in Medicine, Mr. Samuel E. Krug, Ph.D. was presented with the Award of Excellence in Education, and Mr. Martin Healy, Jr. and Mr. Richard Moran were presented with an Alumni Medal. Sam and Mimi Krug were also recognized for pledging $500,000 to endow the chair for the Saint Ignatius Classics Department in honor of Frank Raispis ’45, who was also in attendance.

All Souls Day Mass - November 2, 2011
The entire school community was invited to Mass at Holy Family Church for a day of remembrance for the alumni, family members and friends who have passed away this year. Mass was celebrated by school president, Fr. Michael Caruso, S.J. and was followed by a reception. The names of departed relatives and friends were commemorated with messages that were placed at the foot of the Blessed Virgin Mary statue in the Cuneo Chapel.

5 Year Reunion- Class of 2006 - November 23, 2011
The Class of 2006 returned to school the day before Thanksgiving to reunite with classmates inside the McLaughlin Room. Food and drink were plentiful as more than 200 alums reminisced about their time at Saint Ignatius.
We pray for the departed souls of our alumni and friends who have passed away in recent months. If any of the deceased or their relationships is listed in error, please contact Alice Luzzi at 312-432-8404 or alice.luzzi@ignatius.org so our records can be corrected.
